

Cline Industries

Morgan Cline businesses continue to improve Appanoose County

4*Barker Company

With expansion plans in the works, Barker's Centerville facility looks to the future

8*Deb Egeland

After many years of volunteering, Egeland continues helping the community

10*John Bushemi

The Centerville native John "One Shot" Bushemi received tremendous accolades for his skill in photography.

11*Newest Centerville Councilman

Wallace "Moe" Carter continues a life of service as the newest Centerville City Council Person

14*Pre-Kindergarten Looking Good

With years of experience behind her, Kathy Cossolotto begins a new pre-kindergarten adventure

14*Bill Thom Continues Interest in Music

Years of teaching music have continued Thom's love for music into his retirement

15*Moulton Improving

Gary Harris is working hard to improve his hometown, one step at a time

18*Back in Use

After years of vacancy, the Cooper McGraw Edison building is back in use thanks partly to Lyle Cowan

20*Moravia Merchants Form

Group of Moravia businesses band together to form the Moravia Merchants

23*Putnam County Welcomes Prater

Robin Prater, the newest kindergarten teacher at Putnam County, enjoys working with children

24*Wan Kwong Enjoys Work at the Hospital

Hospital dietitian enjoys traveling and has come a long way from home

26*Curwood Still Growing

360 employees continue producing food packaging for the use of millions

30*Honey Creek State Park Seeing Major Changes

With the much anticipated opening drawing near, the Honey Creek Resort State Park is nearing opening it's doors

32*AEDC Update

Keith Sherman, AEDC President updates on the county's progress in 2007

34*Appanoose County Designated a 'Great Place'

Appanoose County, along with six other Iowa communities, was honored as 'Great Places' by Governor Chet Culver

36*Mayor Marsha Mitchell

Centerville's newest mayor is already looking for answers to Centerville's tough problems

38*Bettering the Community

The 2008 lowegian Citizen of the Year, Henry Ortmann, is glad to help the community any way he can

42*Transfer Station in Use

RASW Transfer Station in full use since the closure of the landfill

42*Moulton Elementary Principal Enjoys Working with Children

Marge Tippet works hard to encourage both students and teachers

45*Albia Welcomes You

Albia area businesses and attractions are highlighted

46*CHS Standout touted as "Physical" coach

Wallace Carter performs exceptionally in every sport he competes in

50*Local Member of the National Guard unit Recalls Combat

After serving his country in Iraq, Kaleb Morrow describes his time as a soldier overseas

54*Finch becomes First Male CHS Cheerleader

After a spur of the moment decision, Zeth Finch joins the ranks of the CHS basketball cheerleading squad

58*Local Brothers Successful as Coaches

Keokuk High School Football coaches Jayson and Chad Cambell lead Keokuk to a state football title

60*Events Calendar

A list of Appanoose County events throughout the upcoming year

63*Howar Gymnasium Improves Classes

Rich Parker, Howar Junior High athletic director, enjoys the options the new gym offers

64*Traxler Improves Exline

Exline native makes changes to Exline and the surrounding community

66*MHS Continues Success

Moravia Superintendent Brad Breon proud of Moravia's top ten ranking

73*Centerville Deep in History

Albert "Abie" Adams recalls Centerville's rich history

75*Honor Roll

A directory to area businesses and their length of time in business

78