Converting fence sitters into homeowners.

Giving consumers the confidence to buy a home is what your REALTOR® National Advertising Campaign is all about.

Whether they're watching primetime television or cable programs, or listening to their favorite radio show, fence sitters across the country are learning about the buyer opportunities available in today's market.

Potential buyers are hearing about low interest rates, historic affordability, and the $8,000 home buyer tax credit. And they're learning about how important it is to work with a REALTOR® to take advantage of these opportunities.

Your national advertising campaign—bringing consumers to your door, so you can help them over the threshold of homeownership.
