Long-Term Care Insurance

Provides benefits for prescribed long-term care, which can include nursing home, assisted daily living and/or home health care services. Most policies have a variety of features and do not restrict coverage to nursing homes. Sometime in 2007 the "Minnesota Long Term Partnership" will enable people who purchase certain long-term care insurance policies to have more of their assets disregarded if they need to apply for Medical Assistance. Consumers should look for a policy that is tailored to their needs and individual situations.

Medical Assistance (MA)/Medicaid

A federal program that assists low-income individuals pay medical, in-home, hospital, and/or nursing home costs. Individuals must meet income and asset limits to qualify.
