

Elderhostel

An educational opportunity for persons 55 and older offered at many universities and colleges. Typically professional educators teach weeklong courses and the group of hostellers stay on campus.

Senior Centers/Clubs

Provide opportunities for older adults through a variety of recreational, educational and informational programming. Some senior centers also sponsor direct services such as congregate dining, volunteer programs, and tax assistance.

Senior Companion Program

A stipended volunteer program. Volunteers befriend older adults who need support when family members cannot be there and provide a regular presence to people who are isolated.

Senior Employment Programs

Provide training, counseling and employment opportunities to older people with limited income and assets. Programs often provide job training and support with the goal of moving individuals into the regular job market.
