

TOP 10 must have gifts for 2007

By Justin Sanchez

1 MP3 PLAYER

If you don't have an mp3 player already, get with the times and ask for one this holiday season. There are countless options with everything from the ever popular Apple iPod to Microsoft's Zune. Forget swapping CDs in and out every two or three songs, carry thousands of songs on one player in your pocket.

2 HDTV

Buying a new TV can be tricky, but with prices coming down to ridiculous levels on HD sets, now is a great time to buy. The deciding factor on what form of HDTV, whether it's plasma, LCD, etc., largely depends on your living quarters. Don't be afraid to ask questions at the local electronic shops, but make sure to do a little personal research at sites like avsforum.com, too. Not every seller has his or her facts straight.

3 CASH CARD

A gift card may not be creative or original, but it's unlikely anyone minds receiving one. Now with the option of putting cash on debit cards from major credit card companies like Visa that can be spent anywhere, a better option is available. And there's nothing wrong with a little extra money in your pocket.

4 LOTTERY TICKETS

No losers, please. A lottery ticket has a shot at being the best stocking stuffer in the history of gift giving. Unfortunately the odds of getting a million dollar winner are slim to none. There's always a chance though, so I'll take two.
