

Money Saving Fall Vacations CLOSE TO HOME

Fall is the perfect time of year and the perfect weather to do some hiking, biking and camping. Plus, we are in the perfect location. Kentucky has over 50 state parks, seven being in our area plus two national parks. Listed below are just a few places of the many hundreds where you can fish, boat, camp, bike, hike and do many other activities right here at home.

HIKING

If you are a hiker, the Daniel Boone National Forest features over 600 miles of developed forest trails. Cumberland Falls is a hiker's paradise with 17 miles of hiking trails that wind through the park to scenic areas. Big South Fork National River and Recreation Area has over 150 miles of maintained hiking trails that range from short, one-mile loops to long multi-day hikes through the rugged backcountry. In Levi Jackson State Park you can retrace the footsteps of the early pioneers on eight-and-one-half miles of trails. Pine Mountain has 15 miles where you can hike to Chained Rock, the Hemlock Gardens, Honeymoon Falls, Rock Hotel and the Living Stairway.

CAMPING

There are multiple camping locations in this area. The Daniel Boone National Forest has developed campgrounds and underdeveloped or dispersed campsites located throughout the general forest area. Big South Fork offers two developed campgrounds, Brandy Creek Campground in Tennessee and Blue Herron Campground in Kentucky. Levi Jackson has 146 site campground and Cumberland Falls has 50 site campground, both having utility hookups, a grocery store, a dump station, showers, rest rooms and laundry facilities.

RESTAURANTS

Don't want to cook your own food? There are several locations where you can hike, bike, camp and enjoy home cooking. Cumberland Falls has the Riverview Restaurant where you can have a breathtaking view overlooking the Cumberland River. Pine Mountain has the Mountain View Restaurant, which has great mountain views, atmosphere and wonderful food.
